In this fifth presentation for AY2022, of the Interagency Brown-Bag Lecture Series co-hosted by the U.S. Army Command and General Staff School and the CGSC Foundation's Simons Center for Ethical Leadership and Interagency Cooperation, Mr. Terry D. Mobley, Diplomacy Chair, U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, will lead a discussion about the U.S. Department of State. He will also discuss the Foreign Service and Foreign Service Officers' various duties and duty stations.

Mr. Terry D. Mobley, Diplomacy Chair, U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, is a career Foreign Service Officer and has served with the U.S. Department of State for 20 years. He has served in China, Indonesia, Laos, Taiwan, Washington, D.C., and at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. His assignments have ranged from consular, management, political, and law enforcement development to counterterrorism and have included duty as the acting director of the Office of Weapons of Mass Destruction Terrorism in the Bureau of International Security and Nonproliferation and as the Consular Section Chief in Wuhan, China. He assumed the duties of the Diplomacy Chair at CGSC in 2021.

Due to current restrictions no food or drinks are allowed in the conference room.
